"Professionally, my confidence in dealing with the unknown and being able to improvise in any situation was improved. I also gained my first experience working with international clients and having to adapt quickly to different working styles and cultures. Personally, my confidence was given a huge boost by this adventure. After returning home I was immediately more motivated to go out and make things happen for myself, not as afraid to put myself out there and take (calculated) risks. I chose CRCC Asia due to the range and quality of companies CRCC Asia could provide. I definitely feel I was placed within a relevant company. Additionally, the other activities CRCC Asia organised and offered whilst out in Beijing sounded really good and would give me the best chance to meet lots of people and take part in amazing experiences."

"It was a real differentiator on my CV and a great talking point at interview. It shows employers that I am comfortable with new experiences and new cultures which is extremely important to the global companies that I was applying to. It was also a great personal experience. In terms of the CRCC Asia internship, I met loads of people from many different countries, quite a few of whom I am still in contact with four years on. A variety of people intern with CRCC Asia but they are all similar in that they take their careers very seriously. It was a great personal experience to meet those people but also brilliant professionally as I have built a strong network of people in business in Canada, Australia, the US and here in the UK."

James Lennie,
Shanghai, Business Intern

"It's definitely great on my CV – it's something most others don't have and it's a great talking point. All the skills I learnt in Shanghai have been so transferable and I now have great evidence for all the key skills that employers are looking for, as well as the fact that my skills were learnt overseas in a foreign working culture! It certainly gives me an edge. It also speaks volumes to the employer about me as a person."

Emily Ferris,
Shanghai, Media Intern

"The skills I picked up in China were very applicable to Law. It's important to understand different cultures and why people from different backgrounds might do things. It was useful being able to evidence my interpersonal skills as well as gaining an understanding of Chinese Law which is very different from UK Law. Undoubtedly the internship set me apart."

UNITED KINGDOM

Manchester

Manchester is one of the largest student cities in Europe, the city where the first computer was invented and the atom first split, and the home of Manchester United and the BBC. As an intern in Manchester, students have the opportunity to immerse themselves in every aspect of British life through a work placement suited to your interests, and a full schedule of social, cultural and business events.

There is a vibe in Manchester that is unpretentious and authentic. Interns will immediately feel like locals but be surrounded by big city amenities. The Northern Quarter is a hipster's paradise. Deansgate is where one rubs elbows with young professionals - a networking dream. Canal Street has a vibrant and creative LGBT scene. The city is a roamer's dream.

Originally, the birthplace of Reebok, Rolls Royce, Umbro, The Co-Op, and Henri Lloyd - Manchester is steeped in history and the entrepreneurial spirit lives on. With scores of Fortune 500 firms that once called London home - there is a shift in corporate dynamics that makes Manchester the perfect location to attract talent.

The location of Manchester is perfectly suited for Intra-UK and Inter-Europe travel. Manchester Piccadilly Rail Station has you in London or Edinburgh in less than 4 hours; Liverpool or Leeds in less than 1 hour; and a flight from Manchester International Airport (also a CRCC Asia Host Company) to Paris, Amsterdam or Brussels is just over an hour in duration. Perfectly situated!

INGDOM

Based on its comparative affordability and dynamic culture, Manchester has become a hub for start-ups and entrepreneurial activity, as well as home to more established companies like the BBC. It's quickly becoming an essential city for many multinational companies including AstraZeneca and BNY Mellon.

Manchester has a vibrant music culture, being home to Oasis, The Smiths, The Stone Roses, The Chemical Brothers and The 1975.

Comparatively Manchester is much more affordable than other European cities.

It is within easy proximity to the Peak District and Lake District National parks as well as Liverpool and London.

“My internship in Manchester Airport Group (MAG) has exceeded my expectation. In the shortness of 8 weeks, I have had meetings with several well known companies such as: Hainan Airlines, AOE (a Germany based software company), World Duty Free, and London Stansted Airport, one of the branches under MAG. I feel like a part of the team, specifically I feel comfortable to jump into a discussion, to raise a question, and to contribute to the strategy development.”

“The marketing experience I gained in China helped me secure a position in advertising at one of Canada’s top telecommunication companies upon my return. Having work experience in China on my resume helped differentiate me from other candidates and always made for a great conversation starter in the interview process. Personally, I have also seen growth in myself because living abroad in a country where you do not speak the mother tongue helps you become more independent and resourceful. Being able to experience the booming economy in China first hand has helped me develop my future business plans, which includes conducting international business in China and India.”
